

Curriculum Vitae

Alfons JANSMAN

Senior scientist,
Wageningen Livestock Research

Senior scientist at Wageningen Livestock Research in Wageningen, The Netherlands. After graduating from the Wageningen University in 1987, he obtained his PhD at the same university in 1993 on a thesis entitled "Tannins in feedstuffs for simple-stomached animals".

He was employed from 1993 till 2003 by TNO (Netherlands Organization for Applied Scientific Research) as scientist animal nutrition. Since 2003 he is working at Wageningen Livestock Research, The Netherlands as senior scientist animal nutrition.

His main areas of expertise are the nutritional evaluation of feed ingredients, digestive physiology in pigs, amino acid requirements and metabolism, and nutrition and health in pigs and poultry.